Sprouts and Shouts—the Garden is Up and Running!

The lima bean contest turned out a winner for everyone, but the fastest sprouting happened in Linda Meyerson's class, as their beans were soaked in paper towels and placed in plastic bags and stationed near the sunlight. The humidity in the sealed bags made all the difference.

But yesterday and today were the two planting days for Pre-K, and each garden box now will soon emerge with their first greens for our collective garden. Earlier in the week, a few rugged volunteers (thanks to Hayley Feldman and Ron Brounes) got their hands messy, spreading the compost and manure bags across three of the boxes.

Come see the "Practice Box" out in our West End—our herbs are standing proud following a few brief rains over the past week.

Next Green Volunteer date: Monday, November 21, at 9am.
